Citi Advantage card - Airlines miles card. Will need good credit to apply

United Airlines card - Will need good credit

Capital One Visa - another good Airlines mileage card. Good for people that have fair to very good credit or if you need to establish a little more. Instant approval. Has different cards depending on your credit situation.

Providian is a good card and one of the largest card providers in the US. Providian is also a good source for people wanting to establish credit. Credit cards and interest rates varies depending on your credit score. Remember if you are trying to re-establish credit, or to build more credit, you may have a higher interest rate because of your poor credit score. It is better to try to re-establish your credit, show a record of timely payments, then after 1 year, you may be able to re-negotiate a better rate or even switch to another card. But you must first establish a good payment record. Having no credit is worse than having poor credit!

First Premiere Cards

This company is great if you have bad credit including bankruptcy. No instant approval. Credit limit is usually between $300 and $500 - depending on your score. Annual fee and a higher interest rate apply but well worth it if you need to re-establish bad credit or no credit. After you have had the card for 2 years - you should be able to apply for one with a better interest rate and no annual fee. You can transfer the balance from this card to your new one.

Also - you may apply for a Cross Country Bank Credit Card. It is the same as First Premiere and Centennial. Go to their website (www.crosscountrybank.com) for more information
